

Prof. Yukio Tamura delivered a Special Lecture

Prof. Yukio Tamura, honorary professor at Chongqing University, professor emeritus and honorary director of Wind Engineering Research Center at Tokyo Polytechnic University delivered a special lecture at annual meeting of Japan Association for Wind Engineering (JAWE) on May 23, 2018.

This special lecture was delivered by him in commemoration of his exceptional achievement of being elected to a Chinese Academy of Engineering Foreign Academician on November 27, 2017. The Chinese Academy of Engineering is the Nation's highest academy in the engineering field, and its member holds the highest academic title in China.

